COMPLEX LITIGATION GROUP

LEADERS IN CLASS ACTION LITIGATION

The firm's Complex Litigation practice began in 1988 with the Specialty Steel Pipe case. Keller Rohrback represented four large Wisconsin electric utility companies suing on behalf of other owners of industrial plants containing stainless steel and special alloy pipe and fittings. Fabricators and suppliers, including Allied Signal and Johnson Controls, who sold such Specialty Steel Pipe on a cost-plus basis allegedly engaged in a price-fixing conspiracy. This antitrust case was certified as a class action in Transamerica Refining Corp. v. Dravo Corp., 130 F.R.D. 70 (S.D.Tex. 1990). The Class achieved settlements of $49.5 million.

The ability of the firm has received judicial recognition both locally and nationally.

For example, Chief Judge Coughenour of the Western District of Washington found that the adequate representation requirement of Rule 23 had been satisfied appointing Keller Rohrback as class counsel, Mortimore v. F.D.I.C., 197 F.R.D. 432, 438 (W.D.Wash. 2000). Federal courts in Minnesota and Florida have also found Keller Rohrback qualified to serve as class counsel. In re Potash Antitrust Litigation, 159 F.R.D. 682, 692 (D.Minn. 1995); In re Carbon Dioxide Antitrust Litigation, 149 F.R.D. 229, 223 (M.D.Fla. 1993).

"The Court finds that [Keller Rohrback] is experienced and qualified counsel who is generally able to conduct the litigation as lead counsel on behalf of the putative class. Keller Rohrback has significant experience in ERISA litigation, serving as co-lead counsel in the Enron ERISA litigation, the Lucent ERISA litigation, and the Providian ERISA litigation, and experience in complex class action litigation in other areas of the merit of several potential cases. Keller Rohrback then immediately set to work and pursued several cases. Thus far, the lawyers have recovered approximately $8.69 Million in damages on behalf of the victims. These recoveries far outstripped anything the United States Attorney has accomplished or could have accomplished in this case, and together they represent the best hope that the victims may recover a significant portion of their losses." United States v. Philip E. Harmon, (W.D.Wash. 1999).

Antitrust

Keller Rohrback's antitrust and trade regulation practice represents individual and class plaintiffs in state and federal litigation. Our clients include consumer and business class members who have been harmed by illegal, anti-competitive conduct. Keller Rohrback has substantial expertise in pursuing claims under the Sherman and Clayton Acts for price fixing, customer allocation, market division, exclusive dealing, price discrimination, the tying or bundling of products, misleading and deceptive marketing practices, monopolization and attempted monopolization of markets, and other related practices. By litigating claims on behalf of businesses and consumers harmed by such practices, Keller Rohrback helps achieve the goal of the nation's antitrust and trade regulation statutes, ensuring that consumers get the benefits of free and fair competition in the marketplace.

Keller Rohrback has played a prominent role in large price-fixing and price discrimination cases litigated across the country. The following are examples of our antitrust experience:

Airlines

Keller Rohrback served on the Steering Committee of this class action antitrust lawsuit brought in Georgia federal court against the seven major United States airlines, which alleged a conspiracy to artificially increase the price of domestic airline tickets. The class achieved settlements totaling $458 million -- $408 million in certificates and $50 million in cash. This is one of the largest class action settlements ever reached in the United States.

Architectural Hinge

This class action lawsuit brought in Missouri federal court involved a nationwide price-fixing conspiracy among manufacturers of architectural hinges during the period 1986 through 1988. Almost $7.4 million in settlements were achieved in this case.

Bronze and Copper Flake

This class action suit was brought in New Jersey federal court and alleged a nationwide price-fixing conspiracy among major producers of bronze and copper flake from 1986 through 1989. The class achieved $2 million in settlements.

Infant Formula

This class action lawsuit involved a nationwide price-fixing conspiracy among three manufacturers of infant formula who dominate the market during the period January 1, 1980 to January 13, 1992. The class achieved settlements totaling $125.76 million.

Linerboard Antitrust Litigation

The class actions in this litigation recently were resolved with the recovery of more than $202 million for the benefit of a class of businesses that purchased corrugated boxes and sheets. The combined settlements are the largest ever obtained in a price-fixing class action in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania and among the largest obtained in such a case nationally.

Marshfield Clinic

Microsoft Antitrust Litigation

A class of direct purchasers of operating system software achieved a settlement of $10.5 million in the United States District Court for the District of Maryland.

Minnesota Pharmacy

Businesses which participated in the recovery received nearly 200% of the amounts they were overcharged.

NASCAR

Keller Rohrback was counsel for plaintiff in a lawsuit that charges NASCAR with breach of contract and unlawful monopolization. The suit also claims that NASCAR and another defendant, International Speedway Corporation ("ISC"), have engaged in a conspiracy to restrain trade in violation of the antitrust laws. Keller Rohrback represented the shareholders of Speedway Motorsports, Inc. ("SMI"), a publicly traded company that owns six motorsports facilities, including Texas Motor Speedway ("TMS"). The plaintiffs allege that NASCAR breached a promise to award a second annual Nextel Cup race date to Texas Motor Speedway. They also allege that NASCAR unlawfully maintains a monopoly and has conspired with ISC in the allocation of new Nextel Cup race dates to motorsports facilities. Specifically, NASCAR has awarded the last three new Nextel Cup dates to speedways in which ISC owns an interest, to the exclusion of superior non-ISC tracks. In May 2004, the parties announced that they had reached a settlement agreement, pursuant to which SMI would purchase North Carolina Speedway, located in Rockingham, North Carolina ("Rockingham"), from ISC for $100.4 million. NASCAR would then sanction the Nextel Cup Series race previously hosted by Rockingham at TMS in the 2005 season. Therefore, TMS would host two Nextel Cup Series races in 2005: on April 17, 2005 and again on November 6, 2005. The settlement was approved by the Texas federal court.

(Also cited as "In re IKON Office Solutions, Inc. Securities Litigation.") The current wave of 401(k) company stock cases began with Whetman v. IKON Office Solutions, Inc. In a first of its kind complaint, we alleged that company stock was an imprudent investment for the plan, that the fiduciaries of the plan failed to provide complete and accurate information concerning company stock to the participants, and that they failed to address their conflicts of interest. Pa. 2000); class certification, Whetman v. IKON Office Solutions, Inc., 191 F.R.D. 457 (E.D.
